

THE CARLISLE PLAN.

J. H. A. Don't Like It. It is in the interest of the Gold Bugs as Against the People.

What Business Has Uncle Sam Going the Security of the Bankers for their Debts to the People.

IT IS DOWN RIGHT ROBBERY.

Errors News—Will you allow me a small space to say a few words on the Carlisle plan? The first section of that proposed law, requires the repealing of all laws requiring or authorizing the deposit of United States bonds as security for circulation.

Why require this? Simply because it is seen that the issue and sale of bonds is growing more and more unpopular, and the discount and imparity of the people is becoming ominous. The National debt on which the National banking system is based will be due in a few years, and with the payment of this debt, the banking system resting thereon would expire by limitation. And it is desired by the banking corporations of the country, to retain at all hazards the control of the issue and value of currency. The present administration, being merely the obedient servant of the corporations, is anxious to place security within their grasp, and to maintain over all industry, commerce and property of the people, before sinking into inglorious and dishonored obscurity. Hence the haste of the people's representatives, under the lash of their master, Grover Cleveland, to carry out the plan of the Baltimore bankers' convention.

What supreme contempt for the will or wishes of the masses? Their opinion was not required. The question was not discussed at all in the press or on the stump before the election, but just as soon as the election is over the bankers meet and issue their orders to the president and his curios, and they vie with one another in their eagerness to carry out the plan of the Baltimore bankers. O, what utter contempt for the people! Where is the spirit of our fathers? It sleeps; it is not dead; it only sleeps. And we! I, the millions, who are now and are now selling the sacred rights and liberties of their constituents to the corporations, when that spirit shall awaken!

Second—Save the Carlisle plan—National bank to issue the national amount of 50 per centum of their paid up capital, and when emergencies arise, 25 per centum additional.

Why should the banking corporations be permitted to float their notes (debt) upon the public for money?

Why should the people be compelled by law to pay the national bank interest for the privilege of using the debt for money? What business has Uncle Sam going the security of the bankers for their debts to the people? Is not the merchant, the miller, the manufacturer, the miner, the farmer or any other person or business firm whatever, as much entitled in equity to the privilege of loaning their notes (debt) to the people for money purposes as the national bankers?

For one hundred years it has been the boasted motto of the Democratic party: "Equal rights to all, exclusive privileges to none." Now they are rushing headlong to confer on the national bankers exclusive, special, p. currency, most unjust and dangerous privileges. To whom will the bankers owe their notes (debt), it is proposed to allow them to issue and loan to the people at usurious rates of interest? Why to the government, the whole people. Every one of these bank notes issued, will represent at its face value, a debt of the bank to the whole people, in the person of the State. When that person pays the note, then, should they be compelled by law to go to the banker and pay money for what is their own?

O, what wise people Americans are! How intelligent, courageous and independent we are! We would not submit to be fleeced and robbed by kings, monarchs, dukes and lords, and by the most, down-trodden people of the old world. Oh! no, we are a free people! We are! How long will this contemptuous disregard of the wishes and welfare of the people at large continue to be shown by their rulers? Until the people cease to regard themselves as a political sheep to be herded by their political leaders, till the corporations are really to them again.

Pasting over the third section, I find this: "Fourth—Suppose a set of one-half of 1 per centum, payable semi-annually upon the average amount of notes in circulation to defray the expenses of printing notes, official supervision, etc."

This one-half of 1 per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, represents the whole cost to the banks for the notes they are to receive from the government to loan back to the people at from 10 to 50 per cent. per annum.

The U. S. Gov't Reports show Royal Baking Powder superior to all others.

wonder the national bankers can so well afford to pay large salaries to the editors of the great city papers, to teach their blind and deluded readers that "The National Banking system is the best banking system the world ever saw." The bankers are to receive their notes at the bare cost of printing them and the ink and paper used, and then, sticking their fists to them, loan them out as money. The banker lives in "luxurious ease and splendour" on the fat, sweet and life-blood of common folk. And they will continue to dress in soft garments, dwell in beautiful homes, eat sumptuously every day, though it is not good for them, and they will continue to be independent and honest enough not to vote for the welfare of our country and our homes, rather than for the corporations and the politicians of the DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

The fifth section of the Secretary's plan, proposes that the "Secretary of the Treasury shall be authorized to prepare and keep on hand, ready for issue, upon application a reserve of bank national bank notes of each banking association having circulation." "The Secretary shall be authorized to issue such notes in large quantities, and kept constantly on hand in the treasury in bank notes, that when called for by the bankers, they can be shipped postpaid to them; and when they are signed by the president and cashier, they are ready to begin earning dividends for the bankers, Shames! Shame! that the national banker who meekly and tamely submit to such flagrant and outrageous injustice and most shameless robbery! It is not a few less robbers, that does the work of law and is called a "consistent and comprehensive financial policy."

Coming to section eleven, I find that "the circulating notes issued by a banking corporation, shall be subject to the laws of any State, shall be exempt from taxation under the laws of the United States." Of course! It would never make the national banker pay taxes like common mortals! But watch, when that Carlisle bill—Cleveland's bill per Carlisle—reaches a vote, every Congressman will vote solidly against it in the House. And when it shall reach the Senate, that gallant band of Populist Senators will stand like a wall of fire against passage. Mark this prediction and be ye aware who are our real friends and advocates in the halls of legislation.

Respectfully,
J. H. A.

ROSETTA.
Held over last week.
Mr. Warren Alexander and bride, (Miss Sallie Kitchin) began their honeymoon Monday. He has leased land of W. B. Hardin. We extend them our congratulations and good wishes. If Sallie makes as good a wife as our people give her a jewel to Warren.

Miss Angie Stipes while preparing dinner Sunday stumbled over a cat with a bowl of milk in her hands. She was going to fall, but the cat leaped forward and was severely strained two of her fingers were thrown out of place.

One of our young girls gets a number of letters from a fair demitisse in Arkansas. She knows that the letters are from him, but she knows that he ran behind the door to read last night and the door had a glass front which revealed his smiles, blushes and a pretty bunch of emblems.

Old People.
Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicants, but acts as a tonic and invigorant, acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price fifty cents per bottle at A. R. Fisher's Drug store.

Remembering Auntie.
GAS CITY, IND., Dec. 19, 1894.—Mr. G. D. HARBAUGH—Sir—Indoed find twenty-five cents which please send me a ticket in the drawing for $1000.00. Send my Auntie Newcom a box of nice candy. I have a letter from Ella W. Miller. How is our old Cloverport getting along? With much love to all, and also to our dear friends, for a merry Christmas, a prosperous New Year, I remain,
Yours truly,

Teachers' Association.
The 5th Magisterial Association met at Constantine, Dec. 26th, 1894. The meeting was held in the County Superintendent's office.

Devotional exercises conducted by Bro. M. V. Lyons.
Music furnished by the choir, consisting of Misses Lillian, Mattie and Pearl McCuffin, Jennie V. Whitworth, Lillie Johnson and Addie Mercer; Mr. Irvin Johnson and Sidney Hall and Miss Annie Mercer, musicians who performed with accuracy and proved their talent.

Welcome address by Sidney Hall which showed his appreciation and spirit for the work he engaged in.

The County Superintendent followed with some pointed remarks on "The need and value of Association." "Why and how teach Geography?" was discussed by Wm. Skillman first and some points of interest were left to the members, who eagerly caught them, and a spirited discussion arose; led by Messrs. Geo. H. Moorman and Geo. Gray and many thought of interest were brought to bear upon the Association.

J. C. Baaham introduced the subject "Why and how teach U. S. History," and proved that there are more necessities than one, that should prompt each individual to carefully study his home history, when he has concluded many more points were added of interest by Messrs. Chas. Moorman, S. Hall, Geo. Hall, Wm. Skillman and Geo. Gray.

Music by the choir, after which the Association adjourned for noon to meet at 1 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
Music by choir.

"Why and how teach the diatrical marks," by J. C. Tucker, who presented his method and gave the Association a very good talk why teach this more carefully than has been the custom by the majority of teachers. Many members took an active part in the discussion.

Next subject, "Why cultivate the taste for reading." A well prepared paper on this subject by Miss Amanda Pullen.

Music by choir.
"Why and how teach Grammar," by Chas. Moorman who gave some interesting points, when Jesse Hoskins concluded with a valuable and instructive talk.

Easy by Miss Ada Board, which memory—why was ably composed and appreciated by all.

"The value and necessity of literary societies in Public Schools," S. H. Gray.

Music by choir.
The subject, "Why and how teach Physiology," H. J. Roberts who gave some very valuable hints and suggestions to the teachers, who control the school. H. Hall, delivered a well directed (arrow) talk on the subject, "A Fine Teacher."

Music by choir.
The members being about who had been placed on the programme, a motion to extend our many thanks to the good people of Constantine, and vicinity for the kindness and generous hospitality extended to us while we were remembered, also extended thanks to choir for their good music rendered which gave life and vigor to all the members.

A Great Battle.
It is continually going on in the human system. The struggle of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defeat only self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore bodily health for many years.

DEATH OF JUBEL MEADOR.

He Passes Away at the Ripe Old Age of Ninety-Five.

Died, at the residence of W. H. Pemberton, Rock Lake, Ky., Thursday, December 13, 1894, Jubel Meador, in the ninety-fifth year of his age. Uncle Jubel was born in the town of Bedford county, Virginia, February 25, 1800. When about eight years old his parents, George Meador, and Bettie Harrell, Ada Board, Mattie Oliver and Annie Mercer.

Who Is to Blame?
We complain that those in authority have not the fear of God before their eyes. We will our heads in holy horror at the public corruption which brings our nation into disrepute before the world. But who is to blame? One political party is ever ready to ascribe all the corruption of the other to its political rival. But this godless disregard of national honor and national interest is common to no party; neither is it confined to party leaders, but it controls the people on whom the leaders rely for support. Here is the seat of the disease which is gnawing at the vitals of the republic. The man who now refuses to cater to the depraved tastes of the masses, can not, as a rule, be promoted to office. How many men can sit in the halls of Legislation, or even on our benches of justice who persistently refuse to influence men's votes by money or inflame their passions and sway their judgment with strong drink? When a man of a high sense of moral honor seeks promotion by the suffrage of his fellow-citizens, he soon learns that he must come down from his "sainted dignity" or be defeated. In the excitement of the canvass he yields to base motives to prevent defeat. He compromises his high sense of honor, degrades his conscience, and sells out his manifold to secure an honorable position. We should not expect one to manifest a high sense of honor or in public places as long as we require men to compromise their honor in order to secure such places. The thing is both unreasonable and unjust. As well expect sweet water to flow from a fountain which we have made bitter.

Party spirit is hostile to moral purity. As one becomes filled with the spirit of party, to that extent does he surrender the freedom of a man. He can neither think nor speak impartially. He stifles the convictions of conscience and shouts the shibboleth of party. With him the triumph of party is infinitely dearer than the maintenance of principle. Hence the conflict becomes a struggle, not for principle but for victory. The people are distracted and the nation brought to the verge of ruin over the most trivial matters. The Eastern empire was once shaken to its foundation by parties which differed only about the merits of aristocrats at the expense of the poor.

This ruthless party spirit was fostered by ignorance. The masses who are controlled at the ballot-box by the basest influences, because they will not be controlled by any other, and who in return control the policies of our country, are, as a rule the uncultured part of society. The better class of citizens are not approached with the influences which control the ignorant. Therefore, the remedy is in the correct education of the masses. The emphasis is correctly made; for any kind of education will remedy this evil. Only as people are truly cultured do they cease to be tools of politicians. Then their intelligence, not their passions, must be addressed. When the masses are thus cultured they will refine instead of demoralize our public men. As a remedy then, for the demoralization of all classes, we need a better system of education. We must have a free education for all. We would have a free education for all. We would have a free education for all. We would have a free education for all.

The children must be educated in just principles. To make this remedy effective, when the means of education are provided for the ignorant, they should be required to appropriate them, or forfeit their right of enuffrage. No man should have a voice in determining the destiny of our nation, who rejects the means of that education which alone can qualify him to act intelligently. A man who has had enough to avail himself of the benefits of an elementary education, when placed within his reach, is not worthy of being a citizen of a free government.

We need to erect a high standard of moral qualification for positions of trust and honor. Those in authority must be about what the people require of them. When ungodliness and moral corruption are so rampant among the people and party spirit can not atone for the darkest crimes, they may expect more purity in high places; not before. This standard must be erected at the ballot-box, or our liberties will find an untimely grave.

Some folks will not think that Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey is no better than the common cough remedies until they try it. Then they will know that it is the best on earth. Neat's Beats.
The satisfactory mounting of photographs is a troublesome operation, and the following suggestion from a contributor to The Outlook may be of assistance to amateurs. The method is as follows: a photograph or an engraving can be mounted on the thinnest paper without cutting or marring the picture. It is a photograph, it should be ironed out smooth with a hot iron, and then placed on a piece of paper, and then inside the corners. Remove the picture and take some of the muffleage on a rolling pin and work it into a ball. As soon as the muffleage is done so to make a line of muffleage all around the place where the picture is to be placed. The muffleage is then pushed into the corners and a book is kept in it. When dry, they will have a smooth finish that will not curl.

An Impossible Home.
The man and his wife called on the architect, and the architect was glad to see them, for business was extremely dull.

"We want you to build a house for us," said the man by way of introduction.

"Thanks," bowed the architect. "I shall be only too glad to do so, and I am quite sure that I can give entire satisfaction."

"Well, you ought to," remarked the lady. "We don't want much."

"What kind of a home did you wish?" inquired the architect.

CHINA has at last decided that it has been whipped enough and will sue for peace.

The residence in Washington City owned and occupied by the late James G. Blaine, is to be demolished and a theatre erected in its place.

No, the Democrats in this county are not considering a candidate to make the race for the Legislature next year. There is time enough for us when the Republicans shall have ousted among themselves.

The members of the State Democratic Executive Committee, say that it is not within their line of duty to call the State Convention that they shall nominate a candidate for United States Senator. The Convention must govern its own actions in that regard. Whether it will be done or not, there is a feeling among a great many Democrats that the coming State Convention should make such a nomination.

The News goes to press on this morning succeeding Christmas day, verily the happiest of all the year, mindful of what has been told in both song and story, that it is a time when the heart is the most eventful of all the past. Friendships are renewed, old tales are retold, and the hearts of all are lightened by the surroundings. Christmas gives time for study and reflection. Peculiar to the child in its innocence and meriment regards it as the time most joyful of all. Surrounded somewhat in mystery, revealing things strange and new, in some respects, yet the fancy and the appearance of Santa Claus at once pleases and sublimates. Let us all be thankful therefore that we have the power to realize sufficiently in our good and evil, and while we are appropriating it so much to ourselves, let us not be altogether selfish. There are those who need to share some of their good and provisions, and whether we have more or little, let us give it freely and in the spirit of Him who gave us this day to celebrate.

THE OOD OF PLANTS.

It Comes From the Heart of the Flower Usually, Sometimes From the Leaves.

The various delightful or disagreeable odors of the plant family are usually in the flower itself, though in some species the scent is in the leaves and stem or even in the root. In either case the odor is due to the presence of certain essential oils, usually of a resinous nature. The number of these oils is unknown, and their nature is so complex that even a slight variation in the temperature or in the quantity of light falling upon the plant, may result in a rearrangement of their component elements, resulting, so far as the smell is concerned at least, in an entirely different compound.

Prophylactic ether, which is an example of these unstable compounds, is slightly different arrangement of its elements, be made to yield either the odor of pineapple or of decaying fish. The reason, therefore, why one species and kind of a plant has a different odor is the case with which one perfume may be transformed into another. Sufficient cause for such transition is often found in the mode of life of each variety of plant and in the difference in their chemical constitution.

Whatever in any way affects the life or growth of a plant, will necessarily effect upon the flower and its perfume. The nature of the soil and its humidity, the variation of the sun's rays, the intensity of the sunlight will sooner or later transform the entire nature of a plant, for, as has been fully ascertained, one plant, in order to produce exactly the same perfume as another, must not only be of the same species, but live in the same climate, soil, air, etc. It must also absorb a similar amount of light and breathe the same, which would, of course, result in leaves similar in size, color and shape. —New York Advertiser.

HOW A MAN GOES TO SLEEP.

Stumber Begins at the Feet, and the Senses Become Dormant One After Another. "Order to heaven's first law," and the old truth is manifested even in the process of going to sleep. When a man drops off to sleep, his body does not go all at once, so to speak, into a state of torpor, but the senses become dormant before others and all ways in the same order. As he becomes drowsy the eyes close, and the senses of seeing is at rest. It is quickly followed by the disappearance of the sense of touch. He next loses the sense of smell, and then after a short interval the tymphans become insensible to sound, or rather the nerves which connect them from it fall to arouse any sense of hearing.

The last sense to leave is that of taste, and in some hypersensitive people it is hardly ever dormant. Even in their case, however, there is no discernible power or sense of taste which is lost. This sense is also the first to return upon awakening. Then hearing follows, after that taste, and then the eye becomes able to flash impressions back to the brain. The sense of smell, odd enough, though, returns the last to go, is the last to come back.

The same gradual loss of power is observed in the manner of waking up, as well as in the sense. Stumber begins at the feet and slowly spreads up the limbs and trunk until the entire body is asleep. The reason, therefore, why one species and kind of a plant has a different odor is the case with which one perfume may be transformed into another.

Sufficient cause for such transition is often found in the mode of life of each variety of plant and in the difference in their chemical constitution.

Whatever in any way affects the life or growth of a plant, will necessarily effect upon the flower and its perfume.

The nature of the soil and its humidity, the variation of the sun's rays, the intensity of the sunlight will sooner or later transform the entire nature of a plant, for, as has been fully ascertained, one plant, in order to produce exactly the same perfume as another, must not only be of the same species, but live in the same climate, soil, air, etc. It must also absorb a similar amount of light and breathe the same, which would, of course, result in leaves similar in size, color and shape.

HOW A MAN GOES TO SLEEP.

Stumber Begins at the Feet, and the Senses Become Dormant One After Another.

"Order to heaven's first law," and the old truth is manifested even in the process of going to sleep.

When a man drops off to sleep, his body does not go all at once, so to speak, into a state of torpor, but the senses become dormant before others and all ways in the same order.

As he becomes drowsy the eyes close, and the senses of seeing is at rest.

It is quickly followed by the disappearance of the sense of touch.

He next loses the sense of smell, and then after a short interval the tymphans become insensible to sound, or rather the nerves which connect them from it fall to arouse any sense of hearing.

The last sense to leave is that of taste, and in some hypersensitive people it is hardly ever dormant.

Even in their case, however, there is no discernible power or sense of taste which is lost.

This sense is also the first to return upon awakening.

Then hearing follows, after that taste, and then the eye becomes able to flash impressions back to the brain.

The sense of smell, odd enough, though, returns the last to go, is the last to come back.

The same gradual loss of power is observed in the manner of waking up, as well as in the sense.

Stumber begins at the feet and slowly spreads up the limbs and trunk until the entire body is asleep.

When unconsciousness is complete and the whole body is at rest.

This is why sleep is impossible when the feet are cold.

BRANDENBURG.

No services in our churches Christmas day.

J. T. Ditto, of Louisville, was in town last Saturday.

I hear of several entertainments for the ensuing week.

Mrs. Robt. Smith is with her daughter Mrs. H. H. Nevitt.

Herbert Worland spent several days at home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Powell are visiting Mrs. H. A. Powell.

Will Casperke is at home with his parents for a little stay.

Mr. Milton Miller has gone to Corydon for his holidays.

Boss McGeehan and Harvey Ditto are home for the holidays.

Mrs. Ned Reese, of Reeces, Ohio, is at her father's, Mr. J. C. Ditto.

Mr. Fred Meador and Mr. Lam Craycroft were in town last week.

In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, liberty; in all things, charity.

Mr. Chas. Hingrove visited Mr. Tom Hamilton's family last Sunday.

Bro. Hagan preached last Saturday and Sunday being his regular days here.

Mr. Geo. Hollinsworth, of Indiana, is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Mahan.

Miss Mattingly was the guest, last Saturday and Sunday, of Miss Ida Edmunds.

Chas. Nevitt is at home from Cecilian with his cousin, Lon Nevitt, as his guest.

Father Herthel has returned to his charge and had mass last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Taylor Hayes spent last Sunday at home and returned to Cloverport Monday.

Miss Mattie Hamilton entertained her friends last Saturday night at her pretty new home.

Miss Pearl Wimp, Raymond, and Robt. Brashner are here from Owensboro for the holidays.

Miss Nellie B. Lewis presented each of her Sunday School pupils a beautiful Bible last Sunday.

Mrs. Wright, wife of the financial manager of the Soda Ash Plant, is at St. Cloud to see her husband.

Will Hamilton is teaching very successfully at Mount Hope in Big Bend.

He is home for the week.

Mrs. H. C. Woodson and Mrs. Geo. Casperke went to Louisville to see the holiday displays and to shop.

Capt. Joe Phillips and wife, of Memphis, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McGeehan at Long Branch.

Tom Pusey will have a X-mas morning for Chicago. Tom is a first class business fellow and has to be at his post.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fairleigh are in Owensboro to spend a few days with their daughter, Mrs. Geo. W. Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Alexander and Miss Virgie Rhodes are in Louisville to spend the week with Mrs. H. A. Alexander.

Miss Eva Herndon went to Louisville last Saturday to meet her father and brother John, of Akron, who are here for the holidays.

Miss Ella Hendricks will entertain a house party this week at her pleasant home, and on the evening of the 25th she will entertain quite elaborately.

Mrs. McSorley has forwarded me much valuable literature. She has touched the minor key of my heart. Reading matter is priceless to me and my greatest pleasure.

Hoping all our correspondents, Editor subscribers and readers a very pleasant Christmas and that we may all answer to roll call for the New Year I am yours truly.

Mr. Joe Fowler's house was burned last Friday and most of the contents. The Monday previous his daughter, Mrs. Wright, was adjudged insane and taken to the asylum.

Prof. F. McCallif has been appointed collector of the county.

With it was a chair in some first class college where that bright intellect would illumine others.

It has been the custom since the death of Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis was closed on Christmas day, but this year the entire family spent the day at the country home of Mr. James Patterson, near Guston.

Dr. D. C. Huey is happy to-day (Sunday) beyond expression for he has all of his children with him. Dr. W. B. Pusey of Louisville, Tom Pusey, of Chicago, Dee and Mary, Mr. Nettleroth, of Louisville, is also a guest.

Marriage License.—J. W. Shewberry to Eunice Ada Payne, W. A. Edwards to Martha P. Thompson, Jim Burgess to Florence C. Livingston, Herbert C. Cain to Sarah C. C. Nicholas, C. C. to Annie Myrtle Brown, Charles A. Fowler to Nealie Woolf.

Mr. Wm. Dewley, who has been associated in business with Mr. H. C. Woolf for several years, will leave January 1st to fill the soil on his farm near Newburyville. Mr. Dewley and his pleasant little wife have many warm friends here who dislike to see him go.

"Depend on me," said the benighted old gentleman who was addressing the Sunday school, "we were abolished by a wiser power than such a selfish one. This is no sugar-made putting us together. If our hands were placed where our feet are, and our feet where our hands are, how could we get along? It would be exceedingly awkward, children, exceedingly awkward. I stretch my hand out to you, I mean my fingers like this. Now, what is this an evidence of, children?"

I am sorry that in the article about Soda Ash some of the committee were omitted. Of course the names were furnished me and it was simply an oversight. Dr. Wm. Dewley and Judge Ravellings and others who were not named have no earthly reason for omitting them by the parties.

Transfers.—Cyrus McCracken to J. P. Delgett, 11 acres $65.00; R. L. Lancaster and wife to Thelma F. Storey, 100 acres $300.00; Daniel E. Thomas and wife to John H. Hawkins, 14 acres $35.00; R. H. Blood Poison.

After Approach of Death, New Life by Taking Hood's.

Mr. Wm. E. Greenholts, Baltimore, Md.

"For four years I was in intense suffering with an abscess on my thigh. It discharged itself several times."

Last February I had to take my bed for four weeks, and then I began to take Hood's Blood Purifier, and my feet, my face, my hands and my throat were all cured. I returned home and continued taking Hood's. I have used six bottles and the abscess has entirely disappeared, and I have been in fine health ever since.

I know if it had not been for Hood's Blood Purifier I should be in my grave. I have gained weight from 14 to 19 years ago to 170 pounds now.

Hood's Cures

Hood's Pills cure liver, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, skin diseases, indigestion.

Bro. K. K. Breeding came over from Hardinburg last week and remained several days to give some most excellent sermons. The loving intercourse of Christian brethren, with gentle courtesy, is, in itself beautiful and we realized it while with Bro. Breeding in church, in the home circle, and we also realized that common to "He ever liveth to make intercession for us."

Mr. Jake Shacklett, Jr., and Miss Mattie Roberts marry to-day, the 20th, at Mr. S. K. Roberts near Ekron. Miss Maud Herndon will play the wedding march. Miss Nell and Dr. Henry Shacklett attended. "All love is sweet, given or returned." Yours, young friends, is doubly so, for it's both given and returned. Miss Mattie Willett and Mr. Shultz also leap to-day to matrimony, and to them I extend most cordial congratulations and best wishes.

Father Herthel announced last Sunday the approaching nuptials of our young couple, J. H. Arnold and Miss Rose Mattingly. If J. H. A. is as enthusiastic a lover and husband as he is a "defender of the faith," his fiancée can never complain. He complimented this paper nicely and we all appreciate it. Yes! the Editor is a liberal, tolerant man, religious and polite, and his columns are ever open to controversial subjects. He's a democrat, you know, and, of course, has for his motto "Equal rights to all, exclusive privileges to none." I am quite proud of those "Grim" letters from Meade if "Do" is the wrong side he'll see the error of his way before '95.

Last Saturday night after a lingering illness, Miss Jennie Woolfolk passed away as beautifully as the "dew drop" soft tears on the flowers." Jennie Woolfolk was the second daughter of Judge J. F. Woolfolk, of Ekron, and died at her home, near Ekron, on Saturday, December 22nd. Jennie had been ailing for some years and from her effects she never recovered, although all that kindness, attention and medical skill could do was administered unavailingly. From the first alarming symptoms she realized her condition and for weeks has expressed an entire resignation. She was contented with her lot, and when called for her sister Fannie, who was sick in another room, a few minutes before her spirit fled. She bestowed a token of love and esteem upon different loved ones, and to members of the Epworth League. Woolfolk had a lovely, amiable, self-sacrificing disposition and was beloved by all with whom she came in touch and sympathy. She was a devoted daughter to her father and ever willing to help mother bear the burdens of home. Affectionate and helpful as sisterhood and constant to friends. Dear, dear sister, I ask myself every day, with such a proud, of her father and ever willing to help mother bear the burdens of home. Affectionate and helpful as sisterhood and constant to friends. LOCAL BRIEVITIES

Dates of Riedel & Co's.
Our prices excellent sales—Sulzer's.
50 cent dolls for 25 cents at Babbe's.
Close shaving bargains all the time—Sulzer's.
Canned goods of every kind at the City Bakery.

Notice—Go to Riedel & Co's. for your Christmas candles and fruit.
Born, Dec. 10, to the wife of B. G. Lashley a fine 10 pound girl, Ella.

A dripping Christmas eve, so they say, is a sure sign of a good fruit crop.

Five inches of the beautiful fell here yesterday. It delighted everybody.

Health preservers that will save doctors bills are now offered at Sulzer's.

Over-coats and over-shoes were in demand yesterday for the first time this winter.

This week we start off on another joy inspiring sale in our clothing department. Sulzer's.

Corn, hay, baled oats, shipstuf, wool and meal always on hand at Perkins's feed store.

W. H. Brumfield, Union Star, has a fine yoke of oxen and a good wagon for sale cheap.

From the hills and dales and the valleys they came to help us out—many thanks to all—Sulzer's.

Have you decided what magazine you are going to take in '95? If you have let us take your subscription—Babbe's.

Cliff Dean came home from Anchorage Monday. He is very much improved in health but is not fully recovered.

It looks still like a Christmas rush at Sulzer's from the way people are going that way for overcoats, shoes and overcoats.

Our merchants say they never had such a trade in the history of their business as they had last Saturday and Monday.

The "Texans" had to put on an extra coach to accommodate the holiday comers and goers. The office here did a fine passenger business.

Mr. J. J. Tilton, Owensboro, paid his friends a visit here last week. He was en route to his home in Michigan to spend the holidays.

It is estimated that over a thousand dollars were spent here Monday for whisky. The sales in one saloon alone ran up to nearly $200.

Miss Addie Louise Babbe entertained a number of her little friends yesterday with a doll party. It was the occasion of her ninth birthday.

Charley and Walter May presented their father, Mr. Charles May, with five twenty dollar gold pieces for his X-mas present. The old gentleman was very proud of them.

Over at Sulzer's Monday it was ringing of electric bells—blowing of whistles and the changing of the register—mingled with the merry laughter of the satisfied buyers—Sulzer's.

Mr. C. D. Temple has grown much wiser in the last few days. He is now unbecomingly and is liable to drop off at any moment. Mr. Temple has been sick for more than a year with a complication of diseases.

Messrs. Bush and Cayce, the two genial gentlemen who run the "Texas" pay car came in a little ahead of time last week so the boys could have their money for X-mas. They scattered about $18,000 along the road.

Notwithstanding this town was crowded with people both Saturday and Monday, not a disturbance of any kind occurred. Several of the country lads got pretty full and funny but they kept their tempers and went home happy.

It took just 25 cents to take the people—it took two rapid money change—it took two wagons to haul off the goods—you can't feel the people—they know where the bargains are to be found—here is the place like Sulzer's.

Mr. E. A. Howell, Walnut Ridge, Ark., in renewing her subscription to the News, asks to be remembered to all of her old friends in Cloverport, and says she is sorry for her of Allen Murray's illness and hopes he will get well.

A week still entered the home of Miss Emma Smith, living on the hill, several nights ago, while she was at church and took her father bed and bolster. When she returned home she found the "quills" all piled up neatly in the middle of the room, but her father was missing.

The World's Fair Tests showed no baking powder so pure or so great in leavening power as the Royal.

California prunes at the City Bakery.
A happy New Year to all—Babbe's.
Big doll contest closes January 1st at Babbe's.

The lowest and best prices in town on feed at Perkins's.

Avoid sickness—get into a warm pair of shoes—Sulzer's.

Riedel & Co. have a choice lot of fruit and candy for holidays.

They came and they went away—an army of satisfied buyers—Sulzer's.

If you are looking for something and cannot find it—come to us—Sulzer's.

J. S. and S. W. Brown went to Louisville Wednesday with their tobacco.

When you make a twenty-five cent purchase call for your tickets—Babbe's.

Gloves are a very useful article at the present time. Good line at Babbe's.

There will be preaching at the Baptist church next Sunday at 11 a. m. and at night.

You will have to make a New Year's present—come to us—we can fit you out, Sulzer's.

Remember you get a guess on that $40 bicycle at Sulzer's. Spend your money with them.

Show clod protectors—our overcoats which are being worn by everybody—Sulzer's.

In the Courier-Journal, Glasgow, cont. Wm. Argabright, of Union Star, hit twenty shots.

It's no mistake but a solid fact—our overcoat sale makes one feel warm and comfortable—Sulzer's.

It was reported on the streets yesterday that Willis Clark was badly cut by one of the Pullman boys at Pataville Tuesday.

Come and make a purchase of twenty-five cents and get a ticket on the big doll. The time expires the last day in January '95—Babbe's.

Prof. J. H. B. Logan's brother, Robert, died on the 25th of December at El Paso, Texas, aged 61 years. Mr. Logan was a very successful business man at Friar Point, Miss. For two years he has been suffering with that dread disease consumption and visited California, Colorado and Texas in hope of recovery.

His brother, Renben and sister Mary were with him in his last hours. His remains will be brought to Troy, Indiana, for interment. Prof. Logan, and wife left on the train last night for Troy to attend the funeral.

Death of J. H. Bricker.
Son of Margaret and Robert Bricker, died of typhoid fever, at his home Saturday, Dec. 15th, 1 o'clock p. m., age 18 years and eleven months. Sorry, sorry to say the death angel has again visited the home of a poor stricken-hearted mother. And has taken away one of our brightest and most intelligent boys, who will be missed by his classmates in school, for he meant to win in all his undertakings. No one knew him but to love him, why should we weep for his loss? He called them to his bedside and asked them if they would pray. While our knees were bent and hearts lifted toward God his dying words were "Lord, give me peace and happiness, let me die free from the wrath that is to come and pass through the valley and shadow of death for the red and the staff, they comfort me."

He also sent a dying message to his most intimate schoolmate who could not be with him to pray and meet him in heaven. Oh! How hard it is to bare.

His body was laid to rest in the Bricker graveyard on Sunday.

We share with them in sympathy and love as a schoolmate and cousin.

May they be able to say as Job of old, "I will trust Him though he slay me."

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for full testimonials.

The Kind of medicine you need is the old reliable tonic and blood-purifier, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. It can have no substitute. Cures other, will cure you.

Old Chatterbox.
Ladies, have you read Trilly? If not you had better stay away from the sewing circle. You have no business at the millinery store. In fact, it is not safe to go out on the street, for you are apt to meet a woman, that comes of a smart family, (all smart people read now) and the first question will be, "have you read Trilly?" and this will cause a little feminine shudder.

So you had better remain at home until you have thoroughly mastered Trilly. Then when you go to these places of resort you will be qualified to discuss Mr. George DuMaurier and his Trilly, which has recently so agitated the novel readers all over the world. You will be better able to guess the musician he refers to as being the only one born this century. Of course a majority will suggest Robert Schuman, since the musical world is just recovering from the shock of the news that he has been transferred to a world where music is the leading theme in the Eternal hereafter. Then there is a wide field for discussion on the mysterious hypnotism, a power that some people have over some people, and something that nobody knows anything about.

After this little stir preliminary conversation, a home-like, familiar feeling comes over all, and a sigh of relief is passed around. A feeling something like Mr. Howells had when he was asked to take tea with Mr. Fields, in Boston, to meet Longfellow, Lowell and Holmes, and hear them call each other Jim and Henry and Wendell.

The next thing in order is to discuss the affairs of those that are not present, where Mrs. Fawcett comes for her new dress, while her husband was so "hard up," how it is that some one else went to the city to buy her new hat, and why was not Mrs.—invited to the last tea.

I don't think to convey the idea by these remarks or a fiction, that the women imagine why Napoleon, when not on the field of battle, would or could stay at home and abuse the women—and have the colic.

These dear feminine creatures surely have a grand and glorious time, especially those who are fortunate enough to have husbands. It is such a pleasure to them to allow their husbands to be lord of all when at home. To allow them to come in at the front door in muddy weather. To throw their overcoats and hats down in the library. To sit after meals with their feet on the mantle and spit on the fender, while they smoke and tell their wives they do it to aid digestion. It is such a pleasure too, to know that they are willing for you to sleep "before" so you can get up without disturbing them to put the cat out, and to keep the children covered.

And nothing pleases a good woman more than to willingly keep quiet while her husband entertains the company. Even if he borrows on her shortcomings, and intimates that he could manage her affairs a great deal better than she does, she serenely smiles and says "that's all."

What a pity that Mr. Grinter, in his "Flower Enchantment," did not save enough seeds from the "Tree of sexual change" to give one to each man in every land, that he might become a woman at pleasure.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN!

Fact or Fiction about Two Great Fair Awards
A newspaper paragraph denounces as "false" the claim of a baking powder company to an award at the World's Fair. Whom can it mean?

Certainly not Dr. Price's. Why? Because the records show, Dr. Price's exhibited, competed and received the highest award, both at Chicago and the California Midwinter Fair. The award was the Gold Medal. Dr. Price's exhibited, competed and received the highest award, both at Chicago and the California Midwinter Fair. The award was the Gold Medal.

KILLING AT ASKINS.
W. F. Galloway Shoots Wm. Mason Through the Heart in Self Defense.

GLENDARE, Ky., Dec. 24. (Special.)—A most unfortunate affair occurred near Askins this county on Saturday night.

On Saturday at the closing exercises of a Mr. Galloway's school at Whittinghill's school house in Ohio county there was given an entertainment. One of the musicians, Mr. W. F. Galloway, it seems, was attacked in a rough manner by one Wm. Mason. The conduct of Mason was such as to break up the entertainment.

From there the musicians went to the house of Mr. Albert Barton where they were dispersing music to the visitors assembled. Mason, under the influence of whisky again came to Galloway and began a disturbance. Galloway left the house aiming to avoid all trouble.

Mason followed and was closely pursued the man who was trying to get away. He was getting too close for Galloway's comfort and at the same time was still advancing with drawn knife. Galloway, in self defense, shot his man through the heart. Mason walked a few steps and fell, dying in a few minutes.

We understand that Mason has been a wayward youth, giving his parents much trouble for years past. His people live in Ohio county and are well-respected, church members. In interviewing Galloway, the writer has known Galloway several years and never heard of his having any trouble with any one before.

He went to Harbingsburg Monday morning to surrender himself to the authorities. The people all say that the killing was justified. These are the statements given your correspondent by eye witnesses. In interviewing Galloway, we find him expressive of much regret that the affair came up. He is sober and of a happy, social disposition.

In cases of severe and sudden colds, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, if used according to directions, is a sure cure. Ask for Ayer's Almanac.

GLENDARE
Elgar Lewis is expected home this week.

This week is all holiday for the school children.

Tom Butler, of Shreve, was here Saturday on business.

Dave Moorman and Joel Pile went to Louisville Monday.

Wade Pile is spending this week with his parents at Burns.

Miss Catherine Rhodes has gone to Cloverport to visit relatives.

See Vic Robertson's ad in this issue, if you want a fine harness horse.

Miss Alma Mattingly went to Harbingsburg Monday to spend Christmas.

A ball will be given at the Mattingly house on Friday night of this week.

There will be a Christmas tree at the Goshen church on Wednesday at 1 p. m.

Lonnie Harper, of West View, is here visiting relatives, and is spending his time with his last girl.

El Storms, who has been in Texas for five years, arrived here Monday on his way to his old home at McDaniels.

George and Henry, two well-known, successful farmers, moved from Falls of Rough to Ekron last week.

A building and Loan man, from Owensboro, was here last week and found no trouble in getting our people to take stock in his concern.

Miss Mary Peyton, who is attending school at Owensboro, was on Saturday's train enroute to her home at the Falls of Rough where she will spend the holidays.

Young Galloway, the unfortunate gentleman who killed Mason at Askins Station Saturday night, boarded the train at this place Monday morning. He was on his way to Harbingsburg to give himself up to the authorities.

We are indebted to a friend who gives us the following description of the entertainment recently given here: Well the concert was over—and such a concert it was the most enjoyable affair of the season. The talent displayed was a great surprise to all. Miss Nan Owen's singing was a surprise to, even her friends, and she captured the bakery, cakes, and all. She proved herself to be a veritable nightingale—and a gentleman from Chicago who is qualified to judge pronounced her the equal of some of the professional Prima Donas.

Miss Carrie Owen's recitations would have done credit to any one and were highly appreciated, and her acting was superb. Dick was the best of the company.

Miss Georgia Robertson's singing and acting were highly appreciated, and she proved herself to Better AND Cheaper.

THE ROYAL BAKING POWDER is more economical than other brands because of its greater leavening strength, as shown by both the U. S. and Canadian Government Reports.

The other baking powders contain from 20 to 80 per cent. less leavening gas than the ROYAL. So the ROYAL, even should it cost more than the others, would be much the cheaper.

In addition to this the superior flavor, sweetness, wholesomeness and delicacy of the food raised by ROYAL BAKING POWDER would make any difference in cost insignificant.

Highest of all in leavening strength.—

YELLOW LAKE.

Mr. F. K. Rhodes went to Louisville last week.

Mrs. Viola Spencer is much better at this writing.

Mr. Joe Wheatley made a flying trip to Cloverport last Tuesday.

Mr. Robert Rhodes, of Jeffersonville, is expected home to spend the Christmas holidays.

Miss Clara Cannon, of Platter's hall, was the guest of Miss Mary Mattingly last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Becca Wilson is teaching a very interesting and well attended school near Mr. John Compton's.

Mr. Charles Pratt moved to Rowland last week.

Mr. Jim Carville will occupy the house vacated by Mr. Paul.

The visit of Mr. Joe Sornell at his brother's, Mr. Mike Sornell, in Grayson county, last week was prolonged by the serious illness of his brother's oldest son.

Mr. J. B. Rhodes attended church at Leitchfield on the holiday, the 8th, inst., and visited his brother, Mr. T. H. Rhodes, on Bear creek the following night and day.

Departed this life Dec. 24th, after a lingering illness of consumption, the wife of "Squire" Lilly. Her remains were interred at Pleasant Hill cemetery Dec. 24th.

Mr. Fred Cannon has taken a relapse of fever and is now dangerously ill. Fred is one of our good boys and we hope his sickness may not terminate seriously.

Miss Nellie Hunter after a delightful visit at West View returned home last Tuesday accompanied by her little niece, Mary Henninger, who will spend several days with grand-ma.

Uncle Tommie Rhodes, of Kirk, brother of Mr. Frank Rhodes, of this city, who was seriously hurt some weeks ago, by falling from a wagon, was so sorry to hear is not much better, still remaining in a very feeble and suffering condition.

Mr. E. J. McDaniel, of Henderson, Ky., and brother, Moore, of Chattanooga, Tenn., spent several days last week at the bedside of their father, Mr. Wm. McDaniel, who was evidently stricken with paralysis some days ago. At present Mr. McDaniel is in a very helpless and almost hopeless condition, yet we trust it is the will of God that may soon be a charge for the better.

A new way of courting has originated in this section. An unknown person throws a letter without any signature over in a yard directly across the road, midway between McDuffie's and the Monastery Bridge where dwells a promising young lady, with "heart whole and fancy free." The contents of the letter consisted in a glowing description of the spiky, old widower with long teeth and gray hair, who wears a tall black hat and desired very much to know if it would be of worth for the lady to wed the slightest hope; yet his heart was faint for him to approach. We think the quickest way for his doom to be decided will be for him to put in his appearance and the lady will sure give him an answer.

Christmas, our loved feast, is fast approaching. In the lowly hut, in the princely hall, over the earth Christmas is hailed with gladness.

Hearts are joyous, cheerful, Faces all are gay.

None are sad or thoughtful On bright Christmas day.

Why should not we rejoice at this fond season—the anniversary of the birth of our Blessed Redeemer, who came into this world for our redemption. What grateful homage we should pay Him on this great day. "Well-Mannered" we repeat with devout hearts and joyful spirit as did the angels at midnight adoring the humble stable of Bethlehem nearly nineteen hundred years ago "Glory to God in the highest, on earth peace to men of good will."

Mrs. Tom McCoy spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Norton last week.

Messrs. Fred Hodges and Geo. Bandy were the guests of Miss Mary McCoy Sunday afternoon.

Sam H. Strong, but never the least true that Miss Alice Norton was at church Sunday without her arms.

Mr. Jake Sipes was the guest of Miss Sarah Hook Sunday. As the "varmint" had been caught, he did not return until late.

It is reported that a certain young lady is going to marry. She wants to know to whom and when, so that she may be ready.

A good old fashioned hand-shaking party meeting was held at Mr. John Wood's Wednesday night, one that we enjoyed attending.

Mr. Amos Sipes is improving, but is not yet able to return home. Some people are inclined to think that he is enjoying his sickness immensely (you know he has such a good nurse).

Death of Little Monnie Parsons.

McDuffie Dec. 22.—We are called upon to chronicle the death of little Monnie Parsons, who died of typhoid fever on the 30th day of September 1894.

She was the only daughter of S. W. and Mrs. A. Parsons. Had she lived to see the 8th day of January 1895, she would have been five years old, but she only lived to draw out the most ardent affection of her parents and all who knew her. She seemed to be a natural born comforter. She was by no means childish in her ways. When only three years old, she took great pains in carrying her mother's bundle of laundry. She would lie on her back and let her mother pick her up by her feet. I must confess that I have learned many practical lessons from little Monnie though a child. We tender to the bereaved parents and relatives our heartfelt sympathy and pray that God's benedictions may rest upon them all. A. N. W.

Mr. Ira P. Wetmore, a prominent real estate agent of San Angelo, Texas, has used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in his family for several years on occasion required, and always with perfect success. He writes: "I find it a perfect cure for our baby when troubled with colic or dysentery. I now feel that my outfit is not complete without a bottle of this Remedy at home or on a trip away from home. THE INDIAN SUMMER.

WHEN IT COMES AND WHAT IS RESPONSIBLE FOR IT.

Scientists and other investigators differ in their views upon the cause of the Indian Summer. The Season Was Given Its Name—Is the Name Correct?

There is a great difference of opinion among those who are in the habit of looking for the cause of the Indian Summer. The season makes its appearance, some winter prophets declaring that it includes every warm day between September 1st, the 29th of September, and Christmas, while others locate it in the month of October. Indeed, the opinions of scientists do not agree any better than those of ordinary individuals, but seem to be as hazy as the season itself.

After looking up much scientific data on the subject, and using a common sense of popular opinion, the fact seems established that this phenomenon of nature really belongs to the month of November, although the signal service notes say that if Indian summer does not come in on October 30th or November 1st, it will come in on November 10th. It is a movable season. Neither do scientists agree as to the cause of that happy autumn which accompanies the season, a condition peculiar to North America. It was attributed by early settlers in this country to the smoke from prairie fires kindled by the Indians—hence the name, "Indian summer." But it is now ascribed by scientists to the appearance of smoke in an optical illusion produced by a peculiar condition of the air, which might be called a dry fog. Sentimentalists declare that it is this dreary haze which gives its charm to the autumn. Others declare that it is the smoke from the burning of autumn, when certain stands still in a haze, languorous mood, and the picture of a hazy landscape, and the picture of a hazy landscape, and the picture of a hazy landscape.

Like a mirage, the Indian summer does not wait to be investigated. It is here—it is gone—before the world is aware of its presence. It is such a restless, happy period that people are content to enjoy it without asking questions, yet the scientific and its phenomena that is worth the most careful scientific investigation. It has been suggested that the smoke from the fat hogs to the city and hopes to get fancy prices.
